

On the Job Safety!

Workplace safety is important. Mechanics, in particular, face a number of safety hazards due to the heavy equipment and chemicals they use on a daily basis.

One of the most dangerous places in a mechanic shop is the floor. Changing oil, transmission fluid, and many other tasks performed by mechanics involve slippery and greasy fluids that often leave a nasty mess on the ground and on the tools they're using.

SuperClean Cleaner-Degreaser has been in mechanic shops across the nation to keep them clean and increase workplace safety for decades.

SuperFan Travis Humphrey sent us some photos to show how and why they use SuperClean in the shop where he works.

The first shows where safety lines were hidden under layers of oil and grime. After spraying some SuperClean on the floor and mopping it up, you can see that SuperClean has removed the grime leaving the vibrant yellow line far easier to see.

A quick wipe-down of this safety helmet shows how dirty those helmets get and how keeping them clean makes it easier for others to see you.

Take a look at this safety hose – when it's dirty, it can be difficult to see against a dirty shop floor. But after a quick wipedown with our degreaser, you won't be able to miss it.

Another SuperFan sent in photos of commonly used (and therefore dirty) tools and equipment that have been SuperCleaned. Now they are easier to see and less likely to be dropped, saving the mechanics time and possible injury during the workday.

SuperClean in your workplace saves you time and money, while making your environment safer! Super Easy. Super Fast.

SuperClean Tackles A Cleaning Bay!

Every SuperClean user has a favorite story about a stain, mess, or problem that SuperClean solved for them, but few can compare to the sheer magnitude of the difference that it made on this commercial vehicle cleaning bay.

To say this bay was dirty is an understatement. That's not a paint job on the right side – it's the original wall color. That's the power of SuperClean combined with a pressure washer! Simple and easy, even for this huge area.

It took only a few hours to remove years of dirt and grime that clung to these walls – both the cement and the siding surfaces, with no scrubbing required!

SuperClean helped transform this work space from dingy and dark to bright and light. Super Easy. Super Fast.

Tackling Your Lawnmower

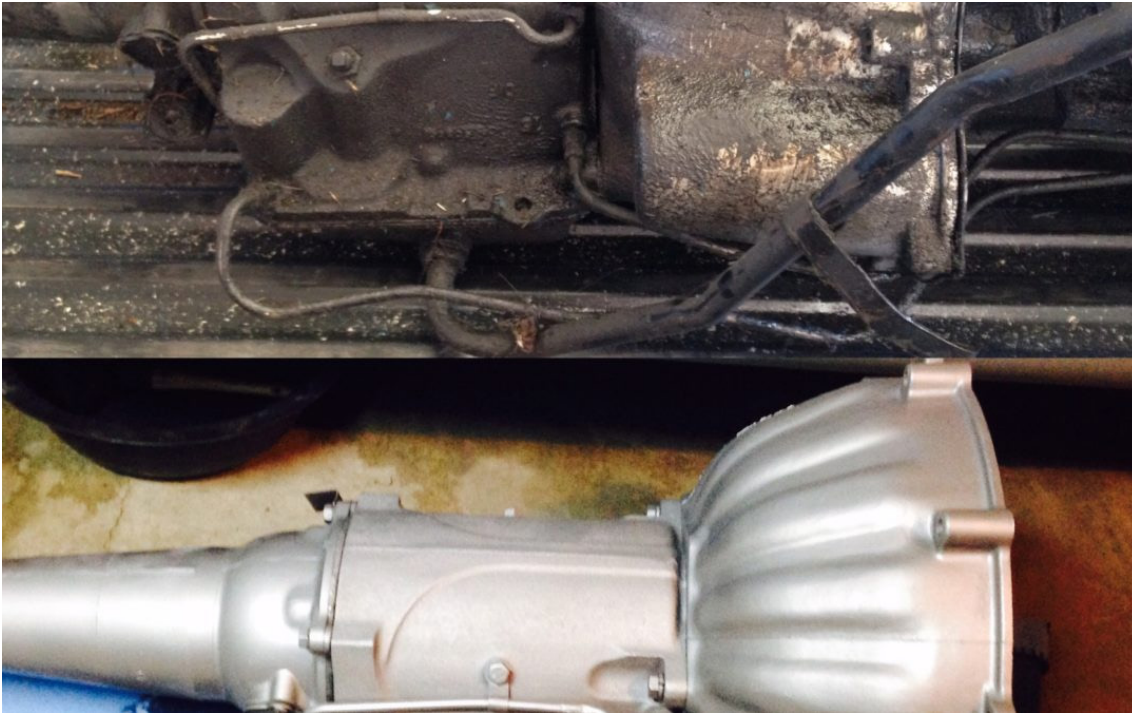

It's the middle of the mowing season which means that by now your lawn mower has formed a nice crusty, green layer of grease, dust, dirt, and dried grasses along the sides and under the body.

This may seem like a minor detail but over time this buildup can influence the performance of your machine. You can nip this problem in the bud by cleaning your mower on a bi-weekly basis. With SuperClean, it's quick and easy so you can spend less time cleaning and more time doing what you love!

Make sure the engine is cool. Start by scraping off the built-up crust with a wire brush or putty knife. Then give the surface a good dose of SuperClean at full strength. We recommend SuperClean Aerosol Cleaner-Degreaser to get inside those nooks and crannies, and quickly break down the residual grass and mud. If necessary, gently brush the external surfaces, under the body, and the engine. Hose it off and you're on to the things you love to do in the summer heat! Super Easy. Super Fast.

Keep Up with Automotive Detailing

Detailing your vehicle's engine is an important part of car care. Maintaining a clean engine bay makes it easier to spot leaks or deteriorating parts so you can fix or replace them before they become bigger problems. This helps to extend the life of your engine by allowing it to cool down faster and keeps the nuts and bolts that hold everything in place in the best shape possible. Plus, if you're looking to sell, you want that engine to be looking as good as possible for potential buyers.

Many people don't think they have the time or energy to do this task because one look at a dirty engine invokes visions of hours of painstaking scrubbing to make it look good again. But SuperClean Cleaner-Degreaser makes the job easier and faster than you could ever imagine! Our proprietary formula is second-to-none in its cleaning power and will have the grease and grime melting off the parts with just a few quick sprays. Before you know it, your engine will be back in prime condition and you'll be back to driving your dream ride! Super Easy. Super Fast.